

Victor G. Sal y Rosas

Biographical Information

Department of Biostatistics
F-600 Health Sciences Building
Box 357232
University of Washington
Seattle, WA 98195-7232
Phone: (206) 330-5895
Fax: (206) 543-3286
email: gianceli@u.washington.edu
webpage: <http://www.biostat.washington.edu/~gianceli/>

Citizenship

Peruvian (J-1 Visa)

Education

Universidad Nacional de Piura, B.S., Mathematics, 2002
Pontifica Universidad Catolica del Peru, M.S., Mathematics, 2004
University of Washington, M.S., Biostatistics, 2007
University of Washington, PhD. candidate Biostatistics, present

Teaching History

Teaching Assistant, Basic Mathematics II, Universidad Catolica del Peru, Winter 2002.
Teaching Assistant, Basic Mathematics I, Universidad Catolica del Peru, Autumn 2002.
Teaching Assistant, Biostatistics 511, University of Washington, Autumn 2008.

Professional Positions

Data Manager Coordinator, Asociacion Civil Impacta Salud y Educacion, 2002–2004.
Graduate Research Assistant, Department of Biostatistics, University of Washington, 2005–2010.

Honors and Awards

International AIDS Research and Training Program Scholarship, University of Washington, 2005–2006.

Publications

Methodology

1. Sal y Rosas V, Hughes J. Nonparametric and semiparametric analysis of current status data subject to outcome misclassification. Submitted

Applications

1. Sanchez J, Sal y Rosas V, Hughes J, Beaten J, Fuchs J, Buchbinder, Koblin B, Casapia M, Ortiz A, and Celum C. Male circumcision and risk of HIV acquisition among men who have sex with men. Submitted

2. Heidi J. Gray, Erin Seifert, Victor G. Sal y Rosas, Katrina F. Nicandri, Wui-Jin Koh, and Barbara A. Goff. The Abandoned Radical Hysterectomy for Cervical Cancer: Clinical Predictors and Outcomes, Obstetrics and Gynecology International. In press.